FOCUS

What: Luxembourg 10th. May 2016 Law implementing UCITS V Directive (Directive 2014/91/EU).

Who: on April 21st, 2016, Luxembourg Parliament adopted the text which amends the 17th. December 2010 Law on Undertakings for Collective Investment.

When: The 10th. May 2016 Law enters into force on June 1st, 2016.

Where: Luxembourg. Each EU Member State must transpose the EU Directive into national law.

How: The means by which Member States implement EU Directives are left to national governments.

Whereas UCITS IV promoted the cross border distribution of UCITS funds, one of the main objectives of the UCITS V Directive is to achieve greater retail investor protection and to prevent systemic financial risks. In this respect, the text acts in three main areas:

Depository regime

The law updates and harmonises the rules applicable to depositaries of UCITS funds, aligning them to the Alternative Investment Fund Managers Directive (AIFMD) stating the obligation for depositaries to be able to entirely refund the fund. This aspect generates the need for depositary banks to strengthen their internal controls on sub-depositaries who manage a portion of the fund and to implement measures for securing the assets.

Remuneration policies

One of the aims of the UCITS V Directive is to increase transparency regarding management companies' remuneration policies and practices by introducing disclosure requirements in relation to the remuneration. In order to discourage disproportionate risk-taking, the remuneration policies shall be in line with the business strategy, objectives, values and interests of the management company and the UCITS/ investors and shall include measures to avoid conflicts of interest.

Sanctions regime & whistleblowing

Retail investor protection is also strengthened by means of a harmonised system of sanctions including the implementation of a whistleblowing mechanism. The aim of the UCITS V Directive is to reinforce accountability of the market players and to avoid differences in the evaluation by national authorities.

However, other thematic areas that were not included in the UCITS V Directive are currently being discussed by European regulator by leading to believe in a UCITS VI Directive in the near future.

At SELECTRA, in order to comply to the new UCITS V Directive regulations, we have developed an operative model for the update of internal procedures and control measures, including IT requirements.
